Investigation Made In Fish Boat Sinking

Insurance company adjusters were yesterday investigating the sinking of the $10,000 fishing boat Notre Dame D'Afrique, which was sent to the bottom of San Pablo Bay, when she was struck by the Matson liner Maui.

Charges that the Maui did not signal and that the vessel was not halted immediately after the fishing boat was struck were made today by Vincent Cardinalli, 29, and Vincent Enea, 23, operators of the craft which is owned and operated by Frank Cardinalli of Pittsburg as a fish collection ship. Cardinalli and Enea were thrown into the bay and were picked up within five minutes by the fishing boat Providencia and taken to Pittsburg.

The men declare their boat was dragged a considerable distance. (Continued on Page 8)

FIREMEN BALL THIS EVENING

All preparations have been completed and the stage is set for the eighth annual benefit ball to be given by the Richmond Fire Department this evening at East Shore Park.

The annual affair is not merely a means of swelling the relief fund; it is the biggest social event of the year for the firemen. Days of preparation finally culminate in one of the most brilliant and colorful affairs of the social season; the crowded floor of dancers attest to the popularity of the annual event.

This year the firemen have worked for months in getting ready for the party, and the result bids fair to eclipse any of the successful relief dances held in the past. Tickets sellers have reported a near sellout and the success of the event from a financial standpoint already seems assured.

Mayor Mattie Chandler and her husband will lead the grand march, which will precede the opening waltz number. Denny Shaw, director of the orchestra that will supply the music throughout the evening, has arranged an excellent program of dance numbers, including eight fox trots, four waltzes and four extras, two of them also waltzes.

Three cash door prizes will be awarded, including two prizes of the prow of the Maui before (Continued on Page 3)

All Foreign Consulates In Nanking Are Barred as New Attack Impends

Nationalist government tonight established a strict censorship on all news from China. In spite of the order, which came suddenly, and without notice, the report gained impetus that Gen. In some quarters it is reported the probability is strong that an agreement will be reached by Chiang and Chang Tso Lin, due (Continued on Page 8)

One of the seven candidates for the three positions on the city council to be filled, will be eliminated. Six candidates will compete at the general election on May 9. J. N. Barnett and Marie L. Mrs. Jensen At Big Credit Meet

Marie Macdonald Jensen, secretary of the Richmond Merchants' association, attended an important session held by the San Francisco Retail Credit Men's association on Thursday. J. M. Bond, credit man for the Standard Oil company, and president of the wholesale credit group, outlined methods followed in credit work.

Mrs. Jensen will today attend the Northern District meeting of Credit Men in Sacramento. Particular interest is vested in the Scofield Bill, No. 18, which concerns bad checks, and the local representative will take an active part in urging that the bill be passed.

Valuable Police Dog Is Missing

H. A. Harvey, well known expressman, is mourning the loss of his German police dog, which answers to the name of "Rene." On his way home Thursday evening, when he reached Thirtieth and McBryde, he let the dog out of the auto for a run. In a short time he noticed an automobile stop, the occupants picked up the dog and drove off with it. They headed toward Oakland.

The dog was a very valuable animal, and Harvey would appreciate any information concerning it. He may be reached by calling Richmond 2235-J.

Rev. W. F. Grant, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, left last evening on train No. 20, of the Southern Pacific for a trip to Chicago.

Rena Laufer

The people of Richmond are watching with a great deal of interest the campaign of Mrs. Rena Laufer, of 253 Third street in her race for a place on the city council. Although this is her first experience in politics she has had a great deal of experience in organizing work in fraternal lines and business.

For the past seventeen years she has been a resident of this city, and has been active in affairs that tended to its development. The candidate is the widow of a Santa Fe railroad man, is a member of the Eastern Star, the Macabees and the Royal Neighbors.

Mrs. Laufer has the interest of the city at heart, and will give her very best efforts toward carrying out an economical and business like administration, without crippling any of the departments of the city.

Friends in all walks of life are aiding her in making her campaign, and they feel certain that she will qualify at the primary, and stand well up at the top of the list at the finals on May 9th.

FELON BATTLES WITH OFFICER IN ESCAPE TRY

Convicted from Los Angeles and Orange counties for bank robberies, Ray R. Remington journeyed through Richmond this morning to San Quentin penitentiary. Hemington was covered with blood from head to foot after waging a battle with Sheriff S. J. Scott of Orange county on the Southern Pacific "Owl."

The fight for liberty occurred on the train after Scott had removed the handcuffs from Remington a short distance from Orange county. Remington promptly attacked the officer, and after knocking Scott to the floor of his compartment and nearly beating him to death with the butt of the officer's gun.

Thompson, a Pullman porter, attacked the convict from the rear and subdued him.

Remington was enroute to San Quentin to serve two five-year concurrent sentences. He was sent to San Quentin after being tried in Santa Ana on another charge.

MURDER COUNT FILED AGAINST 4 IMPLICATED

Alleged Murderer Claims Dry Agent Met Death From Accidental Shot

Scoring the practice of gangsters of trailing their enemies through the streets in the dark of night, waiting for an opportunity to present itself to beat them up in open defiance of law and order, Justice of the Peace John Roth yesterday bound over Joseph Arrella, Homer Lusk, Stanley Czekiel and Joseph Cambra to the Superior Court to answer to charges of murder.

Attorney Leo Sullivan, representing the four men charged with the murder of Joseph Mahola, Oakland undercover prohibition agent, on April 12, at Twelfth street and Chanslor avenue, had previously asked that Lusk, Czekiel and Cambra be freed of charges of murder, growing out of the death of the dry agent.

Sullivan, in making his appeal for the discharge of the three youths, declared that there was insufficient evidence to hold the three defendants for trial on a murder charge, there having been (Continued on Page 5)

County Chambers Elect Officers; Endorse Toll Franchise; Milk Inspection, Road Improvement

Harry Barnes of the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce was the unanimous choice of the members of the Associated Chambers of Commerce for its president at the election held last night at the new Hotel Carquinez.

George Upham of Brentwood, was elected vice-president and Helen Kingsbury, secretary of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, was unanimously chosen secretary.

Barnes succeeds Roy Davis of Antioch, retiring president. An attempt to renominate Davis was frustrated by that gentleman when he called attention to the by-laws of the Associated Chambers of Commerce declaring that no one may be elected an officer of the organization who is not president or secretary of the member organization. Davis was recently succeeded as president of the East Side Chamber of Commerce by George Upham and therefore ineligible to the presidency of the Associated body.

The meeting last night was one of the most enthusiastic held for some time and resulted in the following action being taken: The passage of a resolution urging Governor C. C. Young and the members of the Legislature to support Bill No. 846, introduced in the Senate and now before the assembly, making it possible for counties to grant or extend toll bridge franchises to a period of 60 years.

"Petting Bandit" Held to Answer

Royal J. Kenny, an alleged "petting party" bandit, appeared before Justice of the Peace John Roth in Richmond yesterday for arraignment. Kenny, who lives in Oakland, was unable to raise funds when his bail was set at $5000. He was taken to the sheriff's office to await preliminary hearing.

Kenny is believed to have been one of a trio of bandits who held up Frank Mallico and Miss Jeanette Busulich at the foot of Garrard boulevard in Richmond last February.

100,000 MADE HOMELESS AS ENTIRE VALLEY IS IMPERILED

Area Thousands of Miles In Extent Inundated By Unchecked Waters

(By Universal Service)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 22.—The Mississippi flood gained momentum as it surged southward today, taking increased toll of life and property. The number of dead is estimated at from 100 to 150; the homeless at from 50,000 to 100,000.

Forecasts that the flood would exceed anything ever known in the Mississippi valley were being borne out tonight. Reports from Memphis southward indicated that every man-made barrier would be swept away and the whole country for fifty to a hundred miles on either side of the river inundated.

Thousands of refugees streamed into refugee camps. They came through the night, cold, wet, hungry and terror stricken.

ACTRESS SLAIN BY ASSASSIN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—"Tiny" Thomas, believed to have been a vaudeville actress, was shot and killed late this afternoon in an apartment at 248 Taylor street, by a man who made his escape although pursued several blocks by the apartment house porter.

The murder was preceded by a struggle in which dishes and furniture were scattered over the room. While neighbors were preparing to call the police three shots were heard and a man described as short and swarthy, ran from the room, blood streaming down his face.

A. W. Fletcher, porter, pursued the man until he succeeded in escaping in traffic. The girl rented the room a week ago, according to Mrs. E. Welbanks, proprietor. She had been in the room but three days. She told Mrs. Welbanks she was seeking employment at a local theatre.

Operetta of Club Mendelssohn Meets With Hearty Reception

Before a crowd that taxed the capacity of the auditorium, the operetta, "El Toroso," was presented last night at the Roosevelt Junior high school under the auspices of the Club Mendelssohn of Richmond. The affair was one of the most successful ever held by the organization, and as a result the scholarship fund of the club has been greatly increased.

The operetta, participated in by local talent, was a colorful affair, the bright costumes of the actors and the settings presenting a pleasing picture. The roles were remarkably well acted and reflected greatly to the credit of Mrs. Clinton B. Smith, under whose direction the opus was presented.

The dance numbers, arranged by Miss Matilla Meyer, were outstanding features of the program, with Miss Meyer herself pleasing with solo numbers. A unique feature of the evening was the Baby Supples, the young dance group. The cast of the operetta was as follows:

Don Fernando, owner of the Rancho Chris Heinsen
Luisano William Schmidt

Felipe, nephew of Don Fernando Roy Rogers
Nicholas, a Russian Frank Tiller
Juandiego, an elderly kinsman of Don Fernando Lucien Kneeland
Joaquin, son of Don Fernando J. Robert Glass

SCHOOL INFLUENCE

The South Bend Tribune says that a father of that city with a schoolboy son was discussing international affairs. The father who is a real internationalist, and a great admirer of President Wilson's policies was discussing these principles with the boy. When the father left the room he overheard his son confiding to his mother the opinion that "daddy doesn't know much about history."

This aroused the father's curiosity and he found upon investigation that the boy's teacher had been talking against American entry into the World Court and had to a great extent moulded the boy's opinion on the subject. The father, according to the Tribune, told the story as a good joke on himself and the incident became a subject of much amusement among his friends. "But," concludes the Tribune, "it raises an interesting question."

The question to which the Tribune alludes is doubtless that of the influence of our text books on history, and on teachers upon the future political opinions of the youth of the land. In the South Bend instance the teacher doubtless was a real American nationalist. But in all too many instances the internationalists have the better of it in this moulding of the opinion of the youngsters.

There has been an insidious and often successful effort on the part of pacifists and educators who think they are liberal, to change text books on history, for the purpose of stressing internationalism, the "new freedom" disarmament and its correlating theories. The situation is not as bad as it was because there has been a general protest from patriotic societies and patriotic individuals against removing American patriotism from our histories. This protest has succeeded in remedying part of the evil, but only a part of it. There seems to be a general tendency in certain quarters to belittle patriotism and substitute for it a maudlin and at the same time dangerous form of internationalism. Unfortunately this tendency has been noted among some of our ministers and our teachers.

There is little doubt that the great body of our preachers and teachers are sound Americans, but it will not do to minimize to too great an extent the damage that may be wrought by those who are not.

It is said that the accident insurance men are planning to turn down policies for ball players, bootleggers and drinkers of illicit liquor. But the fellow who commits murder is still a pretty safe risk.

It is reported that the Sultan of Morocco has taken to jazz music. We had always supposed that Morocco was the place where jazz originated.

Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letters should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received, only a few can be answered. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instruction. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this newspaper. Name your city on your return envelope. Don't say "city."

THE STATE OF COMA

Natural sleep is partial loss of consciousness. That consciousness or sensibility is not completely lost is evident in the ease with which a sleeping person may be aroused by sound, touch and various sensations such as thirst, pain, itching, cold. These stimuli will not arouse a person who is comatose. In coma the loss of consciousness is complete.

A striking example of the difference between natural sleep and coma occurs in the attempt to choke a sleeping person. An easy thing to do, if you believe in novels, but not so easy if you ever really attempt it. Unless the person is very ill or far from normal state of health your attempt is certain to awaken the sleeper and bring resistance. If you overpower the resistance and get the victim under the chloroform or other anesthetic, do not run away with the fancy that the victim will not remember all about it when he comes to. This overworked yarn about folks being chloroformed in their sleep without their knowledge, is a fatal alibi to toy with nowadays. Even a skilled physician who knows how to use anesthetics finds it almost impossible to anesthetize a sleeping child or adult who is sick, so it is foolhardy to try it on a well person.

One form of coma which sometimes is mistaken for natural sleep is that due to hemorrhage within the skull from injury to the head. The victim suffers a blow on the head or strikes his head in falling, presently lies down perhaps for the usual night's sleep, and some hours later is found unconscious. This occurs from slow bleeding and increasing pressure of the clot upon the brain. Some suspicion of this should be aroused if the victim of a head injury recovers promptly from the immediate daze or shock and then after a few hours manifests an unusual desire for sleep, especially sleep at a time or under circumstances which would not ordinarily find the individual sleeping. The coma of shock from injury is seldom complete. The victim is generally rather in a dazed state, feebly responding to stimuli such as shouts or pain, if at all, pallid, cold clammy, limp. The breathing is very shallow, the pulse is weak and hard to feel, the pupils are dilated. This same condition may occur from other causes than injury or accident. Great fright may produce it, and it is also characteristic of internal or external hemorrhage, of fainting, and of heat exhaustion (not sunstroke). An identical condition may occur from certain poisons. Shock is the real explanation for most cases of so-called "concussion" of the brain. "Concussion" is a dangerous term because it tends to confusion. Head injuries should be regarded as causing immediate shock, and perhaps more serious conditions besides or later, such as hemorrhage within the skull and pressure on the brain, pressure on the brain by fragments of broken skull or foreign body, or grave damage to the brain by puncture or other wound. "Concussion" is a treacherous illusion to dally with in any such case.

In contrast with this picture of shock is the coma of opium poisoning, sunstroke, uremia, apoplexy, and brain compression. In contrast with this picture of shock is the coma of opium poisoning, sunstroke, uremia, apoplexy, and brain compression. In contrast with this picture of shock is the coma of opium poisoning, sunstroke, uremia, apoplexy, and brain compression.

from any of these causes the victim is usually flushed or at least not pallid, the skin is hot and dry, the pulse is hard and full, the pupils usually contracted, the breathing deep and stertorous or snoring.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Cod Liver Oil

What kind of cod liver oil has the most nutrition? (Mrs. L. C.)

Answer—Any brand of kind has about the same nutritive value as any other kind. But various modifications of cod liver oil lack the vitamins. Emulsions, extracts, wines, tablets and mixtures of cod liver oil are likely to be poor in vitamin value. Plain cod liver oil, of which there are many good brands, is best.

Hygiene Slips Sometimes

Ever Hygeia seems to be against you. Did you read the article in the January number on "sinus trouble"? It says "Exposure to cold winds, especially exposure from driving an open car, is a fairly certain way to change a diminution and recessive inflammation of the sinuses into an active and progressive attack." (R. A. N.)

Answer—Hygeia is the finest health magazine published, yet I'd hate to have to believe all the hokum they print even in Hygeia.

The specialist who wrote this article, like many of his brethren, has narrow vision. I think driving or riding in closed cars is more dangerous for one with sinusitis than driving in open car can be.

Best Treatment

Kindly advise what treatment is best for a catarrhal condition of the ear and nose. (B. T.)

Answer—Medical.

How to Breathe

I would like to know which way of breathing is the more beneficial, the mouth or thru the nose? And which is more injurious, the pipe or the cigarette? (G. L.)

Answer—Ordinarily one should breathe thru the nose. Only when the breathing is greatly increased, as in a hard race, should one breathe thru the open mouth too. Often it is better to breathe entirely thru the mouth in swimming, in order to prevent infection entering (with water) into the nasal cavity. So far as I know it makes no difference whether tobacco is smoked in the form of pipe, cigar or cigarette.

Carbuncle

Are carbuncles caused by poor blood or what? Is cauterizing them the only remedy? (Mrs. M.)

Answer—No, a carbuncle is an infection of the skin and, subcutaneous tissue with pus germs, differing from a boil in that it is not circumscribed as is a boil. Early incision and drainage is better than cauterization.

THE MARRIAGE GAME

As Played to a Decision Every Day By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hutton

ENTHUSIASMS

HER PLAY: How vain you men are. You become so easily offended when the lady of the household doesn't happen to share one of your pet enthusiasms. For instance, there are the Camps. How Barnie Camp has an artistic soul—he calls it that, anyway—He is one of those men who gets up at five a. m. to see the sunrise and nothing will do but that he must get Marguerite up, too. Just fancy that. Now it may be that Marguerite has other things on her mind than sunrises at five a. m. But do you believe Barnie appreciates that? I assure you he doesn't. If Marguerite doesn't enthuse over his little private view of the well-known sunrise he is miffed, annoyed, grieved. Oh, you men! HIS COUNTER-PLAY: Well, that shows you how unappreciative you women can be. She ought to be flattered pink that he cares enough about her to wish her to share in his little private sunrise.

If he didn't crave her sympathy and companionship in such a moment he'd not ask her to join him. It isn't selfishness that inspires a man to desire to share his enthusiasms with his wife—it's his generosity. Oh, why can't you women understand that!

THE REFEREE: W-e-l-l, of course, five a. m. is EARLY, even for a sunrise effect.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, "SC. D." The Parent Counsellor

Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Only questions of general interest answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamp, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper.

"I'd rather hand out a few kisses than a couple of dollars. This Dutch Treat idea is all bunk. I say make the man pay."

"Independent Child of Nature."

This humdinger came shooting across my desk as an answer to a personal letter I wrote this "Independent Child of Nature" who asked the question, "What am I to do with young men who demand a show of affection in return for a seat at the movie or a party at the frat house?"

I advised her to pay her own bills and then she could exercise equal power with men in the choice of companions.

This fair miss tells us through her new de plumme that she is "independent" and "a child of Nature." Furthermore she says "The Man Pays."

I grant that she is nakedly outspoken as my Child of Nature. But is she, after all, so almighty independent? And as for that title of hers "The Man Pays"—is she right?

This department must tackle this important question. I cannot let this Child of Nature get away with murder in this way. Either she's wrong or I'm wrong. I'll state the cases and for goodness sake either come to my rescue or else bury me with No! No! No! I must have the vote of my readers. Send in the clipping by S. A. S. E. and then we'll see WIO PAYS.

1. A self-supporting girl can give the throw-down to a gentleman friend better if she goes "dutch treat" with him than if he pays the bills. (No, yes).

2. If girls generally adopted the dutch treat idea they could more properly approach a boy friend and invite him to a dance and thus to her own picking. (Yes, No).

3. Do girls prefer always being placed in the situation of saying "Yes" or "No" to every Tom, Dick and Harry who come along? (Yes, No).

4. Would girls like to have the privilege of initiating their own desires which boys have? (Yes, No).

5. Do you think boys favor the "dutch treat" idea? (Yes, No).

6. In the young run, which is worth more to you, girls, giving indiscriminate kisses or getting out one buck with an engraving of George Washington on it? (Kisses, one dollar).

Huge Increase Seen in Service Of East Bay Utility District

The East Bay Municipal Utility District, when it acquires the local distribution plant, will become the owner of a large and rapidly growing water business, it is shown in a report today by Dr. George C. Pardee, president of the district, who made public figures telling of the increase in the number of consumers during the last ten years under private ownership.

"In 1915 the East Bay Water Company had 64,611 services," said Dr. Pardee. "In 1926 the number was 119,788. These figures show that the Company has increased its customers by eighty-five per cent in that time."

"During the same ten years, the consumption of water from the Water Company's system increased from 16,059,000 gallons per day, in 1915, to 31,766,000 gallons per day, in 1926, an increase of practically one hundred per cent."

"During the year 1926, the company's report shows that it invested $2,493,000 in its plant, the Upper San Leandro project taking $838,000 of this sum. There were laid, last year, 104.04 miles of pipe, as contrasted with 155.63 in 1925. The total length of pipe in service, on January 31, 1927, was 1,362.92."

Dr. Pardee showed that the Utility District, in preparing to bring in Mokelumne water from the Mountains, has spent to date, nearly $7,000,000 on work which is to cost, when completed, a little over $26,000,000. In analyzing future expenditures he indicated that the finished project can be kept well within the $39,000,000, including the Lafayette Reservoir at $2,270,000, the Claremont Tunnel at $1,704,000, office building and lot in Oakland, $375,000, a small dam on the Mokelumne river above the main Lancha Plana Dam and other items, some of which were not considered when the original $39,000,000 estimate was made and the bond issue was called.

Dr. Pardee's report shows that $379,539.39 has been paid to date out of tax money for interest and appraisals and condemnations.

"Both these items have been paid out of taxes because the law compels it," said Dr. Pardee. "Of course, as we sell more bonds, and as we will have to make more condemnations and appraisals, the more we will have to pay out of the tax money, so be prepared for a higher tax rate next year."

Dr. Pardee declared that the construction of the Mokelumne system is but one step and that the next step is to acquire a local distributing plant.

"We must, in the near future, begin detailed consideration of plans to acquire and operate our own distribution system," he said. "We must either buy the property of the East Bay Water Company, or build a system of our own to be operated in competition with the company. At all events, we must go into the water business for ourselves at the earliest possible date because we know that is what the district was organized to do. Your Board of Directors is aware of the fact that our municipal mountain water must be municipally distributed and that this is impossible until we own the machinery for distribution."

Clinics Planned In City Schools

Members of the Parent-Teacher association of the city are co-operating with the school department in arranging for a series of clinics to be held during the next two weeks for children entering school in August, 1927, on January, 1928.

School authorities particularly urge that parents have their children examined before enrolling them at school, as it has been found that an early examination by a skilled physician reveals the beginning of a serious condition such as heart failure or tuberculosis. Many children's lives have been saved through the early recognition of such conditions and prompt treatment to remedy the same.

Parents are urged to bring the children to the Richmond Health Center on the days and dates listed below, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 m.

Lincoln school—April 25 and 26.

Grant school—April 27 and 28.

Peres school—April 29 and 30.

Fairmont school—May 2.

Stephens school—May 3.

Washington school—May 4.

Nystrom school—May 5.

Pullman and Harding schools—May 6.

Giant and San Pablo schools—May 7.

Should it be impossible for any parent to bring his child on the dates specified for a certain school, arrangements can be made with the principal for another date.

There is no expense to the parent for this examination. The Richmond Health Center has arranged with the various physicians to do this work without cost.

TRAIN BANDITS, SCENIC WONDER IS AT RICHMOND

Honest-to-goodness screen entertainment is what Tob Mix is supplying today at the Richmond theatre in "The Great K & A Train Robbery," which was accorded an enthusiastic reception by the first local audience to see it last night. There's a real, thrilling story which shows the ever-popular Tom in the best role of his career. The scenic effects are gorgeous, the surrounding cast is excellent and the direction of Lew Seiler is all that could be desired. The picture is a Fox Films product.

Director Seiler started out with an excellent plot, which is based upon the novel by Paul Leicester Ford. But he didn't let one opportunity go by the boards. He grasped every situation and developed it to the utmost degree.

The star is cast as Tom Gordon, a noted detective who has been assigned to the tough job of rounding up a gang of desperadoes who have had great success in looting K & A Trains. Burton Holt, division superintendent, is really the brains of the gang and Tom soon finds this out. Meanwhile, he meets Madge Culen, (Dorothy Dwan) the daughter of the president of the railroad. Madge mistakes Tom for a bandit, which does nothing but add to the detective's troubles. From the time of Tom's big encounter with the bandits to the end of the picture, "The Great K & A Train Robbery" travels at terrific speed.

Other film features include "Funnymooners," a Mack Sennett comedy; and "The Mighty Smithy," a screen novelty.

Building Burglar Finishes Plans

Dave Swartout, 1703 West street, Oakland, reported to the police department that ten days ago the building burglar consumed his plans for the erection of a home the burglar is supposed to be building.

The theft threw light on the plans of the home. It is supposed to be a two-story home of terra cotta and the work is rapidly gaining headway. Swartout reported that two ladders, one 24 feet long and one 6 feet in length, together with five gallons of terra cotta colored paint were stolen from a house which Swartout is building on Clinton avenue, a block east of Grant school. The value is $50. Swartout's action in delaying the police report is unexplainable.

MIGHTY FLEET OF WARSHIPS IN MANEUVERS

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A mighty armada of about 130 warships will anchor off New York April 29, when the United States Fleet assembles for the joint maneuvers in Narragansett Bay in May, the Navy Department announced today.

This will be the largest sea force ever mobilized in the North Atlantic. The combined personnel will total 2,277 officers, 28,637 enlisted men and about 1,125 men of the marine corps.

The ships are now on their way back from Cuban waters where they participated in the annual spring maneuvers around Guantanamo Bay. The fleets to be assembled are the scouting fleet, the control force, and train squadron one, which operate in the Atlantic, and the battle fleet and train squadron two, from the Pacific.

The fleet will include 19 battleships, three cruisers, 59 destroyers, 16 submarines, in addition to aircraft, tenders and hospital ships.

17 Daughters Of Revolution Are Still Living

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, April 22.—Seventeen daughters of revolutionary soldiers are still living, according to Mrs. Amos A. Faries, an official of the Daughters of American Revolution, now in session here.

The ages of these "real daughters" range from 74 to 108 and their homes are scattered all over the country. All were too feeble or otherwise incapacitated to attend the meeting.

"America has through these living links a personal representative at every great battle of the revolution," said Mrs. Faries today.

"The group is a true cross-section of American society."

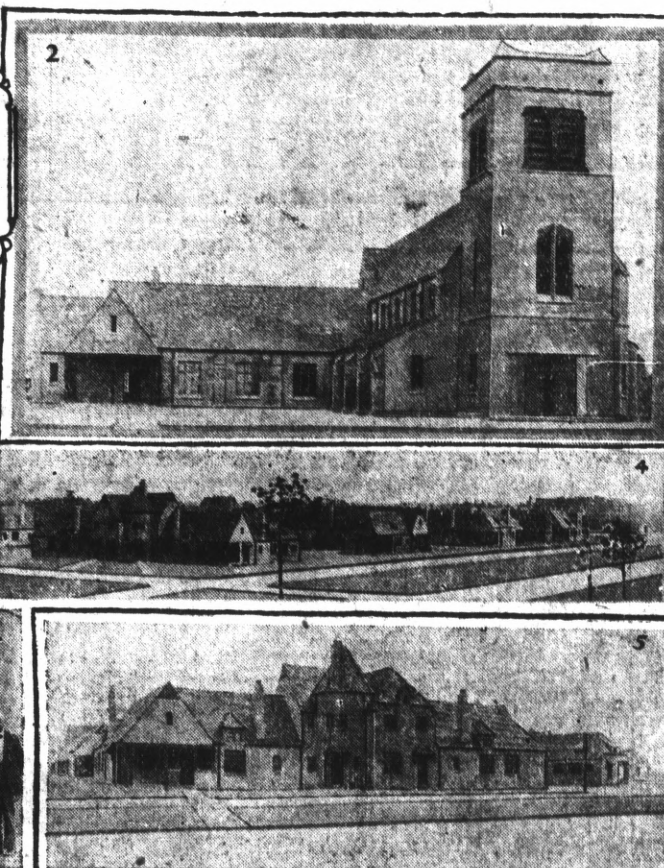

"Their ranks include the wife of a banker, a woman of wealth and attainment; another who speaks in public at the age of 85, one who entertained a card club on her eighty-seventh birthday, and one who at 99 does considerable manual labor."

"This last little lady, Mrs. Sarah W. Simpson, lives in the mountains of Alabama. She runs her small farm, carrying in wood and water every day, sweeping and churning."

The D. A. R. provides an annuity for these ancient ladies.

Community for Retired Ministers Dedicated at Penney Farms

1. J. C. Penney, who founded the J. C. Penney Memorial Community at Penney Farms, Florida, as a memorial to his father, a Baptist clergyman. This Memorial was dedicated on April 24th. 2. The Memorial Chapel, which is the key structure of the community. 3. A group of retired ministers and other Christian workers now living at the J. C. Penney Memorial Community. 4. There are twenty-two of these homes, which provide a total of 98 apartments. 5. A typical home building in the J. C. Penney Memorial Community.

BEAUTIFUL NEW MEMORIAL NOW OPEN IN SOUTH

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 23.—The J. C. Penney Memorial Community for retired ministers and other Christian workers was dedicated in the Memorial Chapel at Penney Farms this morning.

The official dedication ceremonies started on Friday the 22nd and have been attended by men of prominence in religious, educational, and social work from many parts of the country.

With the completion of the dedication program a new city has been added to Florida and a new type of home has been made available for these in the ministry and other religious work who have been forced by age or circumstance, into retirement.

In appearance, the J. C. Penney Memorial Community is one of surprising architectural beauty. It is a complete town, Norman-French in type, with broad streets, a central parkway, wide sidewalks, and with every convenience afforded modern civic development.

It is located in the new town of Penney Farms, eight miles from the town of Green Cove Springs, Fla., 35 miles from the city of Jacksonville, and near the historic St. John River.

The formal dedication of this community memorial city marks the culmination of a plan on which Mr. Penney has been working for the past several years and on which actual construction started ten months ago when the first earth was turned.

In the community proper there are twenty-two houses and a community church. The houses are Norman-French in design, while the church is a conventionalized Norman-Gothic of interesting beauty.

The houses furnish 98 apartments to be used as homes by retired ministers and other Christian workers. The exterior appearance of each of the houses is that of a large home, the apartment interiors being hidden in the architectural development.

A wide parkway traverses the center of the community city, with a beautiful park area in the middle. The church is at the end of the parkway. The houses are grouped along wide streets leading off from the center drive and are set at spacious intervals to allow for an abundance of light and air.

In construction they are exceptional. The exterior finish is of stucco which is laid over hollow tile. This tile is furred on the inside walls and is set against metal lath which is covered with plaster.

This form of construction makes the houses moisture proof. The construction of the flooring is interesting. The concrete walls are carried well down into the sand foundation and so built that they retain the sand instead of letting it move and slip out.

The flooring is built upon a sing base, a hollow tile layer surrounding the slag and over this hollow tile are laid a layer of cement and then the wood flooring. This method of construction prevents any soil moisture from entering the houses.

The apartments include kitchen, dutch dining nooks and large living rooms with especially high ceilings to give light and ventilation.

Heating is furnished from a central steam heating plant. Attractive fireplaces are also a part of the general developments in the living rooms.

All apartments are completely furnished for the occupants, furniture, including electric ranges for cooking, electric refrigeration plants, complete dining room equipment including chairs, tables, dishes, etc., while the living room is fitted with disappearing beds and also with chairs, tables, rugs, pictures, and everything necessary to comfortable living.

Streets are of the specifications established by the State of Florida, with a slag top. Sidewalks have been tinted to eliminate glare and the landscaping around the houses has been arranged to give ample opportunity for decorative lawn effects.

The church center of the memorial community is the crowning architectural achievement. The nave will accommodate 400 people. There is also a chapel and a community room where the executive councils of the community will hold their meetings.

In the nave, the altar is built of dressed Coquina rock. The arched Gothic ceiling with decorative exposed beams is stately and the lighting is soft and appealing.

From the exterior, the church structure presents a dignified square bell tower, Gothic in type, flanked on one side by a conventionalized Norman tower of lesser height to conform to the Norman aspects of the home buildings. At the other side the chapel and community rooms extend at right angles to the nave. The windows throughout the building are of the casement type with frequent recourse to leaded panes.

In developing this community Mr. Penney has established a memorial to his father who was a Baptist minister with his parish located in Hamilton, Mo.

It is a non-denominational home for ministers and other workers in the Christian religion, those who are eligible to occupancy of the homes, being determined by Dr. Poling, director of the J. C. Penney Foundation, which is administering the great work for the founder.

In its operations it is a practical demonstration of helpfulness rather than an institution of charity.

A major consideration is that those who come to the community be married. Each of the apartments is occupied by a family. These families are given the use of the apartments and are furnished with lighting, heating, and the other general necessities of a home. They must come sufficiently able in a financial way to attend to the matters of clothing, food, and personal expenses.

The churches or other organizations they have served must then pensions for these charges.

struction of the East Bay Public Utility District's aqueduct."

The Tunnel Road, said Veale, is carrying traffic loads never intended that it should carry when it was built. The heavy trucks have ruined it and it is unfortunate for the county at this time but it could not be avoided, he said.

Veale said he was certain that Governor Young and the legislature would in two years be very glad to take over the tunnel road as a state highway but that under Young's economy plan of highway construction this year and next it would be asking too great a favor to have him show partiality to Contra Costa county when he would have to turn down requests from other sections of the state.

E. B. Bull, Robert Borland, president of the Martinez Chamber of Commerce, George Upham, of Brentwood, F. M. Ray, of Walnut Creek and P. M. Sanford, president of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce took a similar attitude and deplored Lafayette's hasty action, though admitting that being on the tunnel road and having to undergo hardships in using the cut-up, rutty and almost dangerous highway was aggravating in the extreme. However, they believed, that in the larger interests of Contra Costa county as a whole that it was best to wait two years before asking that the State take over this intercounty highway as its own.

The adoption of the resolution endorsing Sharkey's 50-year toll bridge franchise bill received all favorable votes except from Borland of Martinez, who, while recognizing the great good that might come to the motorist in toll reduction, felt that it was his duty to protect the interests of the Martinez-Benicia Ferry. Ray of Walnut Creek refrained from voting because he did not know the attitude of his directors.

"Bridges have come to stay," declared P. M. Sanford urging the adoption of his resolution. "They bring happiness and prosperity. The bill introduced by Senator Sharkey is a far-seeing one and is meant to serve us of today and not the generations of tomorrow. It means lower tolls and it means that Contra Costa county will be in a better position to appeal to thousands of tourists and visitors. We owe it, too, to the pioneer bridge builders to give them this protection of a long-life franchise. And the people, the motorists benefit the most because the toll bill automatically reduces the tolls."

The milk inspection proposition brought out a fine discussion and one that was quite illuminative. It was disclosed that the health of Contra Costa county is vitally linked with proper milk and dairy inspection.

Richmond was pointed out as the one community in the county that was properly looking after its milk supply.

R. R. Root, milk inspector for Richmond, told of the spread of tuberculosis through unsanitary milk. He said that it has been determined by doctors that 26 percent of tubercular infection in children is traced to bovine origin, to milk drunk by children.

On motion of Sanford, the president was authorized to name a committee of two to find out what it would cost the county to inaugurate a system of milk and dairy herd inspection.

One of the occupants of the large car, identified by Johnson as being Joe Cambra, one of the defendants, got out about fifteen minutes in the Maryland dance hall, Oakland, on the night of the tragedy, leaving for Richmond in Johnson's Ford coupe at 10:30 o'clock.

Running out of gas at the intersection of Twelfth street and Chanslor avenue, Johnson had been forced to stop just after turning the corner north on Twelfth street. As the car came to a halt Johnson noticed another machine—a Chrysler touring car—cut in diagonally to the curb in front of the machine occupied by the dry sleuths.

Johnson related how he and Mamola had spent about fifteen minutes in the Maryland dance hall, Oakland, on the night of the tragedy, leaving for Richmond in Johnson's Ford coupe at 10:30 o'clock.

Events from then on became more or less muddled and vague, Johnson asserted yesterday. He remembered having heard two shots fired from his car and drew his own gun before he decided that discretion was the better part of valor and took to his heels just as several more shots were fired. He then rushed up to one of the nearby residences and asked no conspiracy among them to bring about Mamola's death or even to attack the dry officer.

Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey, in fighting Sullivan's plea to discharge Lusk, Czekiel and Cambra, branded the three Oakland youths as accomplices in the murder, all three having played parts that resulted in the death of the undercover agent.

The large audience that crowded the courtroom of Judge Roth yesterday heard a story of how a prohibition officer, or "stooley" as the defendants contemptuously refer to an undercover agent—fearing the vengeance of bootleggers against whom he had testified in federal court but a few weeks previously, deserted his comrade and left him to shoot it out with the gangsters.

Louis Johnson of Mount Eden, Mamola's fellow prohibition agent, took the witness stand yesterday and told of the events leading up to the tragedy. Both he and Mamola had been staying in Richmond at the Hotel Glenn for the week previous to the shooting, both being registered under assumed names so as to throw their enemies off their trail, Johnson said.

Johnson related how he and Mamola had spent about fifteen minutes in the Maryland dance hall, Oakland, on the night of the tragedy, leaving for Richmond in Johnson's Ford coupe at 10:30 o'clock.

Running out of gas at the intersection of Twelfth street and Chanslor avenue, Johnson had been forced to stop just after turning the corner north on Twelfth street. Pinole to Raise Memorial Fund

The Pinole Opera House will be the scene of an entertainment to be given for the memorial fund of Pinole this evening. The only city in the county without a memorial to the war heroes, Pinole is making plans to turn out en masse and make the benefit show an unqualified success.

The evening's entertainment will be featured by numbers by Walter Bundy and the Sunset Musical club. Adults will be charged fifty cents admission and children twenty-five cents.

A man there to summon the police. Going back to the scene of the shooting, he found Mamola lying in a pool of blood, with life fast ebbing away from a shot that severed both terminal artery and vein of the leg.

In cross examination by defense attorneys Johnson admitted that he had two quart bottles of liquor in his machine. Both he and Mamola had taken several drinks earlier in the evening, he testified.

A confession alleged to have been made by Joe Agrella to Captain B. V. Shirley of the Richmond police department the morning after the tragedy, was recited when Shirley took the witness stand.

Agrella had freely admitted the fight with Mamola, the witness stated, revenge for Agrella's brother's arrest a short time ago on bootlegging charges being the motive for the attack.

Seeing Mamola and his companion at the dance hall on the evening of the murder, Agrella is said to have remarked to the other three defendants that he was going out to "beat up" the dry agent.

The three men accompanied Agrella on the ride to Richmond, the trip being made in Lusk's car, which he had borrowed for the evening from his parents.

The dry agents had been finally cornered at Twelfth and Chanslor. Shirley testified Agrella had told him, and Lusk had driven his car across the front of Johnson's machine. While Cambra engaged Johnson's attention out in front, Agrella is said to have attempted to pull Mamola out of the coupe, the undercover agent drawing his gun and shooting several times one of the bullets passing through Agrella's hand.

The two men then fell to the street, where Mamola is alleged to have fired several more shots, one of them hitting Agrella in the leg. Mamola then ran across the street, pursued by the wounded gangster. A hand-to-hand battle ensued, Agrella is said to have confessed, ending when the dry agent was wounded with his own revolver.

Shirley also testified that Lusk had admitted to him that Agrella jumped into the touring car and commanded him to drive away with the lights of the machine turned out. The party drove to East Oakland where the wounded man was taken to the Highland hospital for treatment. The arrests were made there by Oakland police, the men making no resistance.

EMERSON SPENCER MAY SET NEW RECORD TODAY

FORMER LOCAL ATHLETE READY FOR BIG TEST

Emerson Bud Spencer, former Richmond high school athlete, is expected to come close to shattering the world's record for the 440-yard run in the meet between Stanford and the University of California this afternoon at Palo Alto.

In the big meet last week Spencer was prevented from threatening Ted Meredith's mark of 47.2 seconds by unfavorable weather conditions. A gale that swept the track and caused comparatively poor marks in most of the events kept Spencer from bettering 50 seconds for the quarter mile.

Better weather conditions are promised for today, and Spencer seems about due to get his long-awaited chance at the world's record. However, his only competition will be furnished by Larry Babcock, his team mate and captain of the Cardinal track squad. Spencer will have to run the first 230 yards close to 23 seconds if he expects to break the mark set by Meredith in Philadelphia in his decade ago.

Stanford rules a decided favorite to turn back the Trojan invaders in today's meet. Morton Kaet, football star, who was expected to take the low hurdle race and the broad jump, is suffering from lumbago and undoubtedly will not be at his best against the Cardinals. Stanford should take the meet by at least a twenty-point margin.

Both Stanford and the University of Southern California will enter teams in the I. C. A. A. next month.

Coursing Program Set For Tomorrow

Sixteen whippets will compete in the open stake the feature event at the three-stake meet to be held by the Richmond Coursing club tomorrow at San Pablo. The first event will start at 11 a. m.

The drawing follows:
Open stake—Colleen Moore vs. La Paloma; Clan Mack vs. Fleet Fitz; Topsy vs. King City Belle; Repeater Jr. vs. Mussolini; Marlin Maid vs. Kentucky Blue Grass; Clean Sweep vs. Lady V; Copper Queen vs. Pretty Polly; Musty Mustard vs. Dawn.

Non-starters' stake—Maid's Best vs. Homestead; Golden Rod vs. Speedless; Caswell vs. King Bright; Bashful vs. Mismatched; Margaret D. vs. Bachelor Bee; Baby Love vs. Sailor Boy; Verano Boy vs. Prince Van; Galway Blaze vs. Mate O' Mist.

McRacken Five Beat Oakland Bowling Team

Crashing over the tenpins for a total score of 2771, the W. S. McRacken bowling team defeated the fast Bisleri Bitters of Oakland in a contest at the Maryland Bowling alleys. Led by "Buck" Nesbitt, who scattered the pins for a 574 score, the local bowlers displayed the strength that is expected to place them high in the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress. H. Thomas followed close behind Nesbitt with a 573 score.

The final count was 2771 to 2715. The McRacken aggregation included in its lineup Westman, 550; Long 531; Nesbitt, 574; G. Thomas 553; H. Thomas, 573.

On next Thursday evening the W. S. McRackens will tangle with the Richmond Elks at the Seventh street alleys in a three-game match, with total pins counting.

to the fact that the strength of the former is daily increasing with the arrival of great numbers of reinforcements for his armies at Shanghai and Nanking. It was announced today that Chiang will offer to pay full indemnity for lives and property lost in the recent Nanking incidents. The word was brought from Chiang's headquarters at Nanking. It was stated that the object of the Nanking government in making this concession was to keep on friendly terms with the powers.

All the foreign consulates at Nanking have been deserted by their respective forces and are sealed, it is reported. No damage has been done to them, however.

Gen. Chiang Kai Shek continues his drive against the red elements in his government and armies. All Russian officers have been dismissed from his forces, including Gen. Galen. This does not bear out the idea held in some sources that the Nanking leader was not sincere in his move against the communists.

Change Of Venue Asked In Span Dispute

MARTINEZ, April 22.—The Northern California Development company today petitioned the Superior court for a change of venue in the suit filed against the concern by Haas Miller. The suit was filed with the consent of the attorney-general. Petition will be heard in Judge A. B. McKenzie's court on Monday.

Miller, living in Vallejo, filed suit to dissolve the company claiming that the company had failed to carry out its purpose to secure a franchise to erect a bridge across Carquinez Straits within time allowed by law.

Headed by Dr. Freyermuth, of San Francisco, the company failed to obtain the franchise, which was awarded to the Rodeo-Vallejo Ferry company and later transferred to the American Toll Bridge company.

GOUGHAM FIGHT CLUB OPPOSES BOXING BOARD

(By Universal Service.)
NEW YORK, April 22.—Stockholders of Madison Square Garden, the largest fight club in the world, are already to take some of their own medicine.

At a special directors' meeting called for next Tuesday, it will be proposed that the "corporation match itself for a finish light with the New York Boxing commission.

If the suggestion is adopted, the civil courts of New York state will be asked to restrain the pugilistic papas from interfering with the Paulino Uzcudun-Jack Delaney contest at the Yankee stadium on June 22.

Stockholders of the club, among whom are some of the wealthiest men in the city, were thunderstruck when the commissioners refused to sanction the bout at Tuesday's meeting.

They believe the commission has consistently legislated against the Garden, and that this case is the last straw. It was a match out of which they expected to make a profit of approximately $200,000.

Within the past year, the stockholders believe the boxing board business among them are:

1—A rule prohibiting smoking at Garden bouts.

2—Closing of the Garden for one week on the McTigue-Berlinbach percentage case.

3—Refusal of the board to uphold a contract held by Tex Rickard on Joe Dundee's services.

4—Cancellation of the Paulino Uzcudun bout, which promised to return a handsome profit.

The stockholders feel they have turned the other cheek often enough. Not only have they been slapped on both cheeks, but they have also been punched in the nose and socked in the kidneys.

To aggravate their feelings still more, Humbert Fugazy threatens to steal Paulino as a result of the latest ruling. Fugazy was visited by Paulino's managerial cabinet today, and they told him they were open to offers.

Fugazy promptly suggested a match between Paulino and either Harry Willis or Tom Heeney. He is willing to stage the match on May 25 at Ebbets Field.

Over there is a California Woodpecker there are far more of this species than of any other found on the Pacific coast. These birds nest in all kinds of trees and at any distance from the ground, laying from three to seven eggs. They have a habit of storing food for future use and will sometimes honey-comb the exterior surface of decayed trees with holes to hold acorns.

MORE THAN 30 DOCTORS— RHEUMATISM QUICKLY RELIEVED

Oakland, Cal., April 16, 1926.
During the past eight months I suffered from rheumatism in my hands and legs. Although I tried various remedies and doctors, I obtained no results.

I had also suffered from colitis and kidney troubles for eighteen years and had been treated by more than thirty doctors in Seattle and Oakland. Most of the medicine that they gave me had a bad effect on these organs, and I did not improve in any way.

At last, however, I found most wonderful relief in the FONG WANG HERB TREATMENT. I came to Fong Wang to take the tea for rheumatism but not only has the rheumatism gone, but my kidneys and intestines are in fine condition and I am free at last from pain.

down with bundles holding their only belongings—on they came from incoming steamboats and refugee trains from the lowlands of Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Uppermost in the minds of these victims of disaster was the hope of finding solid ground, a haven above the flood line.

Hundreds of these victims had had no peaceful rest for many days. Their nights had been spent sleeping in their work clothes, ready to jump and run; their days at incessant toil on levees—till that proved in vain.

Grave fears are entertained for thousands who have been unable to reach places of safety. Far back in the bottom lands are tenant farmers and their families cut off from all communication, clinging to the roof of their water-logged homes or perched on boards fastened in the upper branches of trees, swirling water all about them, their only food a few loaves of bread or some raw corn in a bag.

Evacuation was well under way at Greenville, Miss., tonight. Thousands of the inhabitants had fled before flood waters reached the city today. Greenville lost hope yesterday when the stops landing levee went out.

The levee was crowded with thousands of negro workers and hundreds were caught on a half mile gap that gave way under the rush of water. How many of these lost their lives is not known. The number may never be known. Fifty dead would be a conservative estimate, according to survivors.

Army engineers here today received confirmation of the loss of the government boat Pelican at Knowlton landing, Ark., yesterday. The boat, a small patrol craft with nineteen on board, was caught in a crevasse and swept through a levee. Fourteen of the missing are whites and five negroes.

At Memphis flood water is steadily encroaching upon the outskirts of the city but the main part of town and the residential section, built on bluffs, is still many feet above the water and will not be inundated under any circumstances. Across the Mississippi, in Arkansas, is found only a sea of water, with a few tree tops showing above.

In the Cairo district encouragement was felt by engineers. Levees were holding firm and the water had fallen six inches. At Hickman, Ky., where a terrific battle was waged to hold the levees, the water had come to a stand and engineers believed the fight had been won. Thousands of refugees are gathered in and around Hickman.

The crest of the flood is expected to pass Memphis by Sunday. The line of danger will advance southward slowly. Below Memphis the floor water of the Arkansas is pouring into the Mississippi and greatest fears are entertained for all levees between that point and New Orleans.

New Orleans will not feel the height of the flood for two or three weeks and in the meantime thousands of laborers are kept at work night and day strengthening the levees to meet the greatest strain they have ever known.

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, April 22—

Alarmed by the increasing proportions of the Mississippi flood, the federal government today assumed direct command of the tremendous task of relieving its victims.

Acting upon President Coolidge's orders, a special cabinet committee of four members met with Red Cross officials and decided to raise a fund of $5,000,000 immediately for relief work.

Special committee of the Red Cross for Mississippi valley flood relief was formed with Secretary of Commerce Hoover as its head.

The committee also included Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Secretary of War Dugitt F. Davis, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, James L. Fieser, acting chairman of the Red Cross, and members of the Red Cross central committee.

It was the first time in history that a President of the United States had appointed a cabinet committee to cooperate actively with the Red Cross in a major disaster.

Earlier in the day, President Coolidge issued a proclamation asking prompt and generous contributions to the Red Cross to alleviate the suffering caused by "one of the most extensive floods in the history of the country."

The sum of $5,000,000 was fixed after the committee determined that at least 150,000 refugees must be housed, fed, clothed and given medical treatment over a minimum period of four weeks.

This estimate was based upon a report from Secretary of War Davis who said the crest of the flood is yet to be reached and nothing can stop the breaking of levees at points where the pressure becomes too great.

Only once before has the Red Cross appealed for as large a sum to succeed victims of a "major disaster." This appeal was made for victims of the Japanese earthquake in 1923, and the American people responded by contributing $11,000,000. Last year the Red Cross raised $3,800,000 to relieve sufferers from the Florida hurricane and spent about $450,000 in addition out of its current funds.

In a statement describing the work of the committee, Secretary Hoover said: "The purpose of a special committee is to coordinate the ac-

Protection of Forest from Fire is Urged

PREVALENCE OF FIRE HAZARDS BRINGS ADVICE

A nationwide call to all citizens to give thought to the protection and development of their great forest resources and to take part in bringing about better forest conditions is now on—American Forest Week.

It is declared that practically every citizen, especially auto campers, can contribute to forest conservation and development by helping to prevent forest fires when in the woods as well as by lending intelligent and understanding support to the furtherance of better forestry conditions, both nationally and locally.

Hunters, campers and tourists are often careless with their camp fires, matches and burning tobacco. Ninety percent of the forest fires today are man caused, statistics show, but many of these could have been prevented had only the person shown more care in seeing that the fire was "dead and buried," before leaving the site. By using care when building a camp fire, by stamping out or drenching with water any small fire he might discover and by reporting promptly any blaze that may be sighted, every motorist can contribute to the suppression of the destructive "redecorator."

According to R. J. Kelly, local manager of the Western Auto Supply company, the forest rangers look with approval upon the camper using a gasoline stove in place of the camp fire, as it lessens the fire hazard. The lighting problem is safely answered by the gasoline lamp as its rays of light are sufficiently strong to light the entire camp.

A forest ranger should be consulted about building a camp fire in the woods. These rangers are fine fellows and are always ready to supply the visitor with first-hand information on fishing, hiking or camping. Let him show you how to build and extinguish your camp fire, how to bank it to keep the fire from spreading, why a small fire is better than a big one, and all of those things that only one with years of experience in forest work really knows.

It takes but little longer to extinguish the camp fire in the proper manner and it helps to preserve the mountain timber in its natural, wild state.

Wealthy Girl Freed On Accident Charge

CHICAGO, April 22.—Betty Borden, 17-year old daughter of John Borden, millionaire sportsman, was released when she appeared in traffic court today charged with assault after she had run down a little girl with her automobile yesterday.

she was shunted off and the battered hull sank.

The men declare they observed the Maui's approach at a distance but when a signal was not sounded they continued their task of transferring fish from the Prodenia to the Notre Dame. When they next observed the vessel it was almost upon them. Tony Mercurio, operator of the Prodenia, hurriedly started the engine of his craft and sped away. The larger engine of the Notre Dame could not be started so easily and fearing they might be trapped in the engine room the men made no attempt to get the craft under way, they declared.

When the Maui docked at Crockett it was declared the boats and fishing nets stretched directly across the main channel and that the vessel's prow caught in the nets dragged the Notre Dame against the ship.

An effort will be made to salvage the engines of the Notre Dame. About 1,000 pounds of fish were lost when the vessel sank.
